The crowd opens with Aunt Polly crossing the fence in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom runs out dramatically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects carefully on Tom's mischief and how she lets him get away with his work.

Tom crosses fence at supper time. During supper, Aunt Polly discovers that Tom's hands are covered with jam. She asks him how he got the jam on his hands, and he tells her that he was in the closet. She is still angry from the last time, but Tom's half brother, Sid, tells her that Tom is a good boy and that she should let him go.

Tom goes out of the house to play with his friends on the streets of St. Petersburg. He and the other boys play a game of hide-and-seek and eventually choose the graveyard as the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and wonders how he got them that way. She asks him what he was doing, and he tells her that he was playing with his friends. She tells him that he must work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of excuse. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.
